

PRESS NOTE

Road safety and woman safety are prime targets of Rachakonda police for year 2020. Every year more than 700 people are dying in road accidents in Rachakonda limits. As a first responder role of Police is important to save life of injured. Today (On 09.01.2020) in Rachakonda Police Commissionerate a one-day Orientation training was conducted at CAR Hqrs, Amberpet for Patrol mobile and Blue colts duty officers under the supervision of CP Rachakonda, Sri Mahesh Bhagwat IPS, in coordination with Jeevan G1 Health care. Laxman and Ramesh kumar with staff of Jeevan G1 has facilitated this program. CP Rachakonda has addressed to total 103 police personnel, emphasizing on the motto of reduction of road accidents and ensuring safety, he highlighted the role of Police as the first responder during the Golden Hour. He also emphasized on giving first aid to the injured and shifting him to the nearest hospital during the golden hour. Lifesaving is the utmost sacred duty of every police officer. For the world every police personal is a single entity but for the injured person police can become their world by saving their lives CP said. All the trainees were given demo and power point presentation on life saving skills i.e., CPR, BLS. This orientation programme will be given to each police personnel in Rachakonda Commissionerate.

